

(2)

one I was familiar with, and, frankly, loved & enjoyed. Anyway - a year later I saw Capt Bader in TI, the weekend we were mobilized, and with a rueful grin asked him "What did you get me into!" that's what I'm going to address today.

I'm going to first lay the groundwork by explaining PWC Subic & its mission, then how we were recalled & what we did there. I will then overview the COMUSMACV 106 SUPFOR role in the Gulf, and again show you what we did to contribute. Please interrupt anytime you find something I say either

to Jo's
in WUSLDC (1)

Good Morning. I'd like to thank you for sharing your evening with me. A couple of years ago I got a call from Capt Bob Bader, who was chairing the West Coast Command Selection Board, asking if I would be willing to travel to SF to assume command of NR PWC Subic. It's a good thing he couldn't see my face, as my 1st thought was "What is PWC Subic" I mean I was a Battalion type, had done most of what you all are doing - Co-Ord, Co-Ord, Eng Officer, Ops Officer. Been to 29 Palms, Ft Huachuca, and taken a det to HI. The Battalion would war

3/4 PW contacts
11% 31-44
14% 14-18

(4)

(*)

Transportation - Hertz

Maintenance - largest
except of scheduled

(*)

Utilities - Mt Pinatubo

(*)

Staff civ'l's - Subic/anti/shipyard

(3)

interesting or confusing
that could stand a further
discussion

(*)

Subic Bay is our largest & arguably most
important overseas base.

By the terms of our agreement
with the Philippines, it
is really their base & we're
tenants, and the flags of
the two countries fly side
by side.

(*)

The PW Center is manned
by CEC officers, Seabees,
US Civilians, and Philippine Nationals.

(*)

Mission - NIF

no funding → non-profit

(*)

overhead view/map

(*)

organization

(2)

one I was familiar with, and, frankly, loved & enjoyed. Anyway, a year later I saw Capt Bader in Ti, the weekend we were mobilized, and with a rueful grin asked him "What did you get me into!" That's what I'm going to address today.

I'm going to first lay the groundwork by explaining PWC Subic & its mission, then how we were recalled & what we did there. I will then overview the COMUSMACV 106 SUPFOR role in the Gulf, and again show you what we did to contribute. Please interrupt anytime you find something I say either

to Jo's
in Wash DC

(1)

Good Morning. I'd like to thank you for sharing your evening with me. A couple of years ago I got a call from Capt Bob Bader, who was chairing the West Coast Command Selection Board, asking if I would be willing to travel to SF to assume command of NR PWC Subic. It's a good thing he couldn't see my face, as my 1st thought was "What is PWC Subic" I mean I was a battalion type, had done most of what you all are doing - Lt Col, Capt, Officer, Ops Officer. Been to 29 palms, Ft Huachuca, and taken a det to HI. The battalion would war

3/4 PW
11% contacts
14% makes

(4)

- ⑩
- ⑨
- ⑧
- ⑦

Transportation - Hertz Maintenance - largest
except of scheduled
Utilities - Mt Pinatubo
stuff civils - Subic/whi/ship yard

(3)

- ⑥

interesting or confusing
that could stand a further
discussion

- ⑤

Subic Bay is our
largest & arguably most
important overseas base.
By the terms of our agreement
with the Philippines, it
is really their base & we're
tenants, and the flags of
the two countries fly side
by side.

- ④

The PW Center is manned
by CEC officers, Seabees,
US Civilians, and Philippine Nationals.

- ③

Mission - NIF

- ②

no funding → non-profit
overhead view/map
organization